

Memory Screening & Alzheimer's/Dementia Support Groups FREE & available to the public at the Snook Center every 3rd Tuesday each month, from 1-5 pm.

When my husband began experiencing memory loss, we didn't know where to turn until we heard about the Snook Center.

Although there are a number of forms of dementia, Alzheimer's is the most common. Currently, more than five million Americans suffer from Alzheimer's, and it is now the sixth leading cause of death in the U.S. The best approach to memory loss is to adopt a proactive memory care program. The John McClure Regional Snook Center, the region's leading Alzheimer's & dementia community, offers several memory care programs.

Safe, Caring and Memory Enhancing

Licensed and certified by the State of Alabama, the Snook Center is a 64-bed, 30,500-sq. ft. regional facility, architecturally designed for memory-impaired residents. Its state-of-the-art design features a main-street American shopscape with an ambience of yesteryear and mementos from the past. Memory-focused activities, group exercise and the sights and sounds of yesteryear enrich the lives of patients and enhance their health and lifestyle.
